

Providing Quality Rehabilitation Services Close to Home

Jason Spencer, PT, began his career in physical therapy in 1998 upon completion of his Master's Degree in Physical Therapy from Texas Tech University. He has facilitated successful outcomes for his patients in a variety of settings, but the majority of his experience has come from the outpatient orthopedic and neurologic setting. With an extensive background in spine and shoulder rehab, he welcomes the most challenging patient. Jason also brings a wealth of experience in ergonomics and is skilled at problem solving for patients and employers to decrease their risk of on the job injuries. His greatest joy is seeing his patients resume life to its fullest potential and "Get back in the game."

Jason and his wife of 19 years have 4 children, and when not engaged with his faith, family, or work, he enjoys triathlon or landscaping.

Ann Simmons, PT, brings over 20 years experience as a physical therapist. She is also a Certified Strength Training Specialist and is working toward completion of a manual therapy certification. Ann graduated from Southwest Texas State University in 1987. Patients benefit greatly from her passion and professionalism as she establishes evidence based treatment plans and incorporates a wide variety of exercises and manual therapy interventions to help them achieve their personal goals for recovery.

Additionally, Ann is on the Board of Directors for the Aledo Children's AdvoCats, the Advisory Committee for Weatherford College's PT Assistant program, and is an active member of East Parker County Chamber of Commerce.

Linsey Schofield, PT, completed her undergraduate training at UT Tyler and received her Doctorate of Physical Therapy in 2010 from Hardin-Simmons University. She is a lifelong native of the Weatherford area. She has gained valuable experience in outpatient orthopedics and is working toward attaining a manual therapy certification. Patients benefit from her engaging personality and her hands on approach.

So whether you are dealing with a spine or extremity issue, she will be able to develop a plan of care for you that will get you back to work, back to play or elevate your performance!

Linsey played volleyball for four years at the collegiate level and continues to enjoy running, staying fit and all outdoor activities. Other interests include hanging out with her miniature schnauzers.

Natasha Stava, PTA, is a Physical Therapist Assistant with over 17 years of experience primarily in orthopedics but has worked in a variety of settings. She is a Certified Lymphedema therapist since 1999. Natasha graduated from Colby Community College in Colby, Kansas in 1994. She is married and has three children. Natasha brings a wealth of experience, confidence and charisma to our team.

She also is on the Advisory Committee for Weatherford College's PT Assistant program.
